"SOMEONE REMEMBERS THOUGH THE WORLD FORGETS"

CLASSIC BALLAD

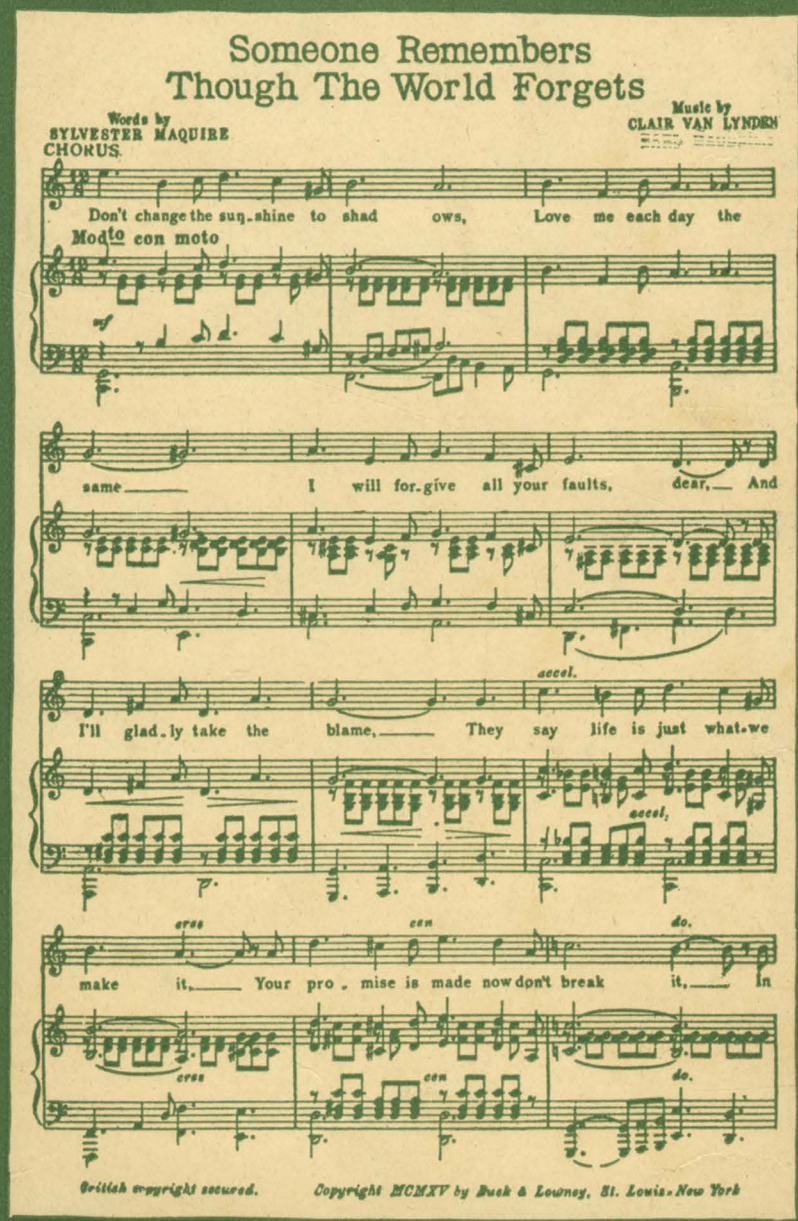
ABOUT THIS SONG

Ever 'list, in the evening of a summer day, to the lonesome call of the skylark to its mate, and wish that some wondrous power might allow you to understand this lover's call?

Sylvester Maguire, a poet of rare talent, in writing "SOMEONE REMEMBERS though the WORLD FORGETS" does this for you . . . only his wonderful ballad is about that true lover we all know, whose heart is calling to its soul mate in Love's appeal.

Clair Van Lynden beautifully composed a melody for this gem, which characteristically impresses you with its Nevin like sentiment.

We beg you . . . just listen to this song once. You will then wish to hear it often.



ABOUT OUR FIRM

The financial rating of BUCK & LOWNEY can be obtained from any bank, and so may our musical rating be obtained from any up-to-the-moment musician.

A man is judged by his deeds and so are music publishers judged by their past publications.

You will quickly remember us as publishers of the famous "Laddie" song, "Good Gravy" Rag, and many others — and still we grow.

Have you heard our new ones; "In Holland" Waltzes, — "Everyone I Know Loves You" and "Cuddling Time"? If not, "get busy" . . . you are denying yourself a musical treat.

Professionals are "always welcome at our house".
